Feet Tired--- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well, No Matter
What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof. You know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends.
I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used."—A. F. Dreuter, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog the pores.
TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses.
You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent to you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

VERMONT FOREST NURSERY.
State Did a Large Business During the Past Season.

Now that the forest planting season has closed the following summary of the nursery stock sold by the state nursery may prove interesting.

The total number of trees sold was 463,000, an increase of 85,000 over 1910. These went out to seventy-three different parties, private owners, and corporations.

An encouraging awakening occurred on the west side of the state.
Whereas Windsor county has formerly led in this enterprise, Rutland county has this year planted the most trees, largely through the activity of the Vermont Marble company and the Rutland Railway, Light and Power company. Windsor county ranks second in this respect, the most extensive planting being done by W. W. D. Woolson of Springfield, and Windham county is third. Considerable planting was done in Bennington and Lamoille counties this year, where very little interest has been shown previously. The largest plantation made this year was that of Dr. Wm. Stanford Stevens of Enosburg, where about 45,000 trees were planted, part of which had been raised on his farm. Extensive plantations were made also on the state lands in Plainfield and Sharon and by the International Paper company on its Vermont lands.

Up to the present time the state nursery has been unable to supply the demand for three year old trees, but from now on it is expected that practically unlimited orders can be filled, as about 600,000 two year old pine seedlings were this year transplanted on the nursery. White pine will continue to be the chief tree raised on the light soil of the Burlington nursery, but at the Sharon nursery, where the soil is somewhat better, it is planned to raise a large supply of Norway spruce. Great loss was suffered during the past winter in both nurseries on account of damage by ice, several hundred thousand seedlings being destroyed.

Slavery in Scottish Mines.
Slavery lingered in the Scottish mine until the very eve of the nineteenth century. Mr. Hackwood, in "The Good Old Times," draws a picture of the Scottish miner's unhappy lot in the past: "From about the year 1445 until 1775 the miners of Scotland were bought and sold with the soil.
It is stated in old chronicles that bloodhounds were kept to trace them if they left their employment and to aid in bringing them back. By statute law miners were bound to work all days in the year except Paschal and Yule, and if they did not work they were to be whipped in the bodies for the glory of God and for the good of their masters." Not until 1775 was the first law passed in an attempt to better this state of things, but it was 1790 ere the law gave the working miner of Scotland his complete freedom."—London Chronicle.

About the State

The First Congregational church of Essex Junction has received $400.93 by the will of the late Miss Marion E.
Burritt.

Four cows were killed by lightning on the George Dolan farm in Starkeboro Sunday afternoon, also two belonging to R. S. Jeffords of Berkshire.

Bristol, R. I., has extended a call to Rev.
Chauncey C. Adams, pastor of the church at Essex Junction. The Bristol church has been without a pastor since October.

Clayton Barrows, the 15-year-old son of Deacon Barrows of New Haven, had two fingers blown off from one hand and the end of his thumb on the other hand by a dynamite cap Sunday morning. The cap was exploded by pricking it with a pin.

Nearly 60,000 blue pine seedlings have recently been received in Proctor by the Vermont Marble Co. These will be set out at once in various places, including the pasture on the hill near the hospital, where the grass was almost entirely killed during last winter.

Farmers in the vicinity of Swanton estimate their hay crop at only about one-half what it was last year, owing to the scarcity of rain in the early part of the summer. Forest and elm caterpillars have been working in that vicinity and English sparrows are pulling the corn.

For the first time in the history of the institution, the young women who graduated from the nurses' training course of the Rutland hospital are to have graduation exercises this year, the affair coming on June 20. An address will be given by Miss Annie W. Goodrich of Albany, N. Y., inspector of nurses' training schools for the state of New York. The program will include music and a supper. There are nine graduates.

Theodore M. Willett of Rutland is in a serious condition as the result of a small piece of glass piercing his leg, cutting one of the main arteries. Willett, a clerk in the hardware store of Billings & Davis, while talking with members of the firm, started to walk from behind to the front of the counter.
In so doing he passed a box of broken glass, refuse from the cutting table.
An end of plate glass about five-eighths of an inch in width struck out and as he passed, pierced the fleshy part of his leg.

Guy Bacon, who is employed on the Tudor farm, Bennington, had a narrow escape from drowning Sunday afternoon.
He was endeavoring to learn to swim in the aid of a boat, to which he clung with one hand, when he was taken with cramps and sank. Fred McDonald, who was on the bank of the pond, saw the accident and swam to Bacon's assistance.
He brought the drowning man to the surface and took him ashore in the boat.
When the pair arrived, Bacon was unconscious but was finally revived by Mc-Donald and proceeded to his home.

Fred Crawford, 20 years of age, and unmarried, of East Concord, was drowned in Miles pond Sunday. With two companions, Hollis and George Morrill, of East Concord, Crawford was "joy" boating and the boat capsized.
All were good swimmers and the Morrill brothers easily swam ashore. It is supposed that Crawford came up under the boat and then sank. The body was recovered at night. The face was bruised from coming in contact with the boat. The body was taken to East Concord and is being kept by one step-sister.
